Also launching today is an officially licensed VIRTUOSO MAX for Xbox consoles. Immersive, clear gaming audio from the CORSAIR sound experts is now available on the Xbox as well as PC. In addition to seamless wireless connection between platforms, the VIRTUOSO MAX for Xbox also offers intuitive on-ear audio/chat mix controls.

VIRTUOSO MAX showcases Dolby Atmos® spatial audio, bringing game worlds to life far beyond the screen with multi-dimensional sound. Each cutscene, conflict, and conversation unfolds around the player with striking realism. Active noise cancellation eliminates all other distractions, for focused listening that never wavers.

Sonarworks SoundID tailors headset settings based on each user's unique tastes and hearing perception, unlocking a perfectly personalized sound profile. CORSAIR iCUE software facilitates SoundID customization and pre-tuned audio configurations, alongside RGB lighting effects and assignable on-ear control wheels. With multi-dimensional audio that reveals the richness and range of every note, games sound thrilling, terrifying, adventurous, and bold. Above all, they sound like VIRTUOSO MAX.

An omni-directional, broadcast-grade microphone captures the inflection and tone of every single word, so communication is as effortless as it would be in-person. Talking with teammates and friends while gaming has never been so straightforward and authentic.

A long battery life sustains VIRTUOSO MAX for up to 60 hours of play, and a quick 15-minute charge can refresh the battery for another six hours of nonstop gaming. Ultra-fast, ultra-reliable 2.4GHz links VIRTUOSO MAX to any preferred device wirelessly, while Bluetooth® allows effortless swapping between PC, mobile, or a combination of simultaneous connections. VIRTUOSO MAX Wireless pays attention to the small details such as increased audio quality with 50mm Graphene Drivers, robust build quality with a durable metal build, and comfort-driven design led by memory foam ear cushions.
