Corsair's Stream Deck product line offers customizable control devices equipped with a series of programmable buttons. These versatile tools cater to a wide range of users, from professional broadcasters and content creators to office workers. They enable efficient management of live streams, video editing, and various tasks, streamlining workflows and enhancing productivity.

The rack mounted Stream Deck Studio is a disruptive IP-based solution specifically designed for the broadcast industry. Paired with Buttons, a powerful new software solution built on the foundation of Companion, the widely adopted open-source software by Bitfocus, Stream Deck Studio dramatically improves broadcast workflow and streamlines control room operations. This new innovative product from Elgato improves productivity at a substantially lower cost.

"Our entire Elgato business is doing extraordinarily well, with product hit after product hit, with the Stream Deck product line forming an entirely new category in the market for peripherals, as more and more people consider a Stream Deck as a must have device," stated Andy Paul, Chief Executive Officer of Corsair.

Winning Best of Show at ISE 2025 underscores Corsair's professional solution, the Stream Deck Studio's role in shaping the future of live production. As the industry moves toward software-defined control, Elgato continues to push boundaries—offering broadcast professionals a powerful solution that evolves with their growing challenges.

"This award is a testament to Stream Deck Studio's impact on professional broadcast workflows," said Julian Fest, General Manager of Elgato. "By combining deep customization with seamless software integration, we're helping broadcasters operate with more flexibility and precision than ever before."
