

Corsair Acquires Majority Ownership in Taiwan-based Electronics Designer and Display Specialist iDisplay

FREMONT, CA, January 5th, 2022 – Corsair Gaming, Inc. (NASDAQ: CRSR) (“Corsair”), a leading global provider and innovator of high-performance gear for gamers and content creators, today announced that it acquired a 51% stake in iDisplay Technology (“iDisplay”), a leader in electronic development and design specializing in display technology.

Taiwan-based iDisplay, founded in 1998, is a developer of consumer electronics, smart home controls, and streaming consoles, with high-profile clients throughout the technology industry. Its expertise has earned iDisplay a reputation as an innovator of small-form-factor displays, and it has developed a broad patent portfolio supporting its technology.

The Elgato Stream Deck was developed in partnership with iDisplay

Corsair, through its Elgato subsidiary, partnered with iDisplay in 2015 to develop the Stream Deck studio control platform. Through their long-term partnership, Corsair, Elgato and iDisplay have collaborated in the development and design of a number of key products. The Elgato Stream Deck range of products and the recently launched CORSAIR ELITE LCD series of all-in-one liquid coolers have benefited from Corsair’s collaboration with iDisplay, integrating stunning displays and multi-function capabilities into user’s PC and desktop setups.

“We’re delighted to welcome our long-standing partner iDisplay to Corsair as we continue to integrate display-based with touch-screen technologies into our feature-rich products for creators, gamers and streamers,” said Thi La, President and Chief Operating Officer of Corsair. “Creators, streamers and gamers benefit from the combination of the display and touch-screen innovation of iDisplay and the industrial design and user-first product development of Corsair.”

KPMG served as legal advisor to iDisplay on this transaction. Corsair’s legal advisor was Lee and Li and its due diligence advisor was Alvarez & Marsal.
